

Reference No. 6.37

WAGE RATES INDEXES : MAY 1975 (PRELIMINARY)

MAIN FEATURES

- In May the weighted average minimum weekly wage rate for adult males increased by $4.30 (4.0 per cent) to $111.19 and for adult females by $4.48 (4.7 per cent) to $100.71.
- The National Wage Case decision and subsequent similar decisions of State industrial tribunals (except in Western Australia) accounted for an increase of $3.70 for adult males and $3.48 for adult females. Inclusion of Western Australia could be expected to raise these figures to about $3.90 and $3.60 respectively.
- The other main increases were those granted to waterside workers, to male and female clerks in Victoria and to sawmilling, etc. employees in Queensland.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

This statement contains figures of weighted average minimum weekly and hourly wage rates and index numbers for adult males and adult females for May 1975 and corresponding figures for some earlier months. More information on these statistics and in particular on the effects of the National Wage Case decision will appear later in the monthly bulletin Wage Rates and Earnings (Reference No. 6.16) which also contains explanatory notes covering definitions, scope of the statistics, etc.

2. The wage rates used in the compilation of the indexes are the lowest rates for a full week's work (excluding overtime) prescribed for particular occupations in awards or determinations of Federal or State industrial authorities; in collective agreements registered with these authorities; or in unregistered collective agreements where these are dominant in particular industries. Because the indexes are designed to measure movements in prescribed minimum rates of wages as distinct from salaries, those awards, etc. which relate solely or mainly to salary earners are excluded. Because of delays in the receipt of notification of changes in wage rates as well as retrospective changes to rates, figures for July 1973 and subsequent months are subject to revision. As such revisions are made they are published in the normal monthly tables of this statement.

3. The indexes are designed to measure trends in wage rates in current awards, etc. excluding the effects of changes in the relative importance of industries, awards and occupations. The weighted average wage rates shown in these tables are therefore indexes expressed in money terms, and do not purport to be actual current averages. Similarly, neither these weighted average wage rates nor the corresponding index numbers measure the relative levels of average current wage rates as between States or industries.

NOTE. The figures for adult males for May 1975 have been revised since the issue of the News Release of 5 August 1975 as a result of the incorporation of increased wages granted to waterside workers.
